

I was very pleased to be able to restrict unwanted calls coming into my home. Now, if banks can override the restriction, other services can also petition to have their services override the restrictions. I pay for my phone service and feel I should be able to decide whom I want to call me. If these companies want to pay for my phone service, I will be happy to listen to their sales pitch. Thank you for the opportunity to express my view.